DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of Group I where the composition is a complete balanced foodstuff in the reply filed on February 15, 2008 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)). The restriction is deemed proper and thereby made FINAL.

Claims 6-10 and 14-20 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions and species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the descriptions for Figure 1 and Figure 2 state that the diet represented by the number one corresponds to the O (owner's) diet; however, both the slow and fast learners received the O diet. Therefore it is unclear whether this data represents the slow learners, the fast learners, or is a combination of both.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 1615

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Although suggestions are made within the specification as to what constitutes “an amount of leucine sufficient to enhance the learning ability of an animal”, no explicit definition or recitation of the exact amount that corresponds to this function is given in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ray et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,283,077).

Ray et al. disclose a low calorie snack food (complete and balanced foodstuff) where the content of leucine was measured to be 4.7% (see table I; instant claims 1, 2, 4, and 5). Ray et al. disclose that their composition is made with a 12-20% moisture content, thus their taught weight percentages are on “wet basis” (see column 5 lines 16-25). Based upon the disclosure of the applicant, a leucine percentage of 0.5% or greater on an “as is” basis is sufficient to “enhance the learning ability of an animal” and in particular a dog (see instant specification page 5 lines 4-9). Therefore claims 1, 2, 4 and 5 are unpatentable over Ray et al.

Art Unit: 1615

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

The four factual inquiries of Graham v. John Deere Co. have been fully considered and analyzed in the rejections that follow.

Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ray et al.

Ray et al. teach a low calorie snack food (complete and balanced foodstuff) where the content of leucine was measured to be 4.7% (see table I; instant claim 1). However, Ray et al. do not specifically teach the leucine being present at 2.3%. The content of leucine, an essential amino acid, is a parameter whose benefits are known to those of ordinary skill in the art and thus the routine optimization of this parameter would have been well within the purview of one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention (see column 6 lines 51-54; instant claim 3).

Therefore claims 1 and 3 are obvious over Ray et al.
